Council of Europe, Directorate of Human Rights*

The Standing Committee on Transfrontier Television brings together representatives of the contracting Parties (currently 13) to the European Convention on Transfrontier Television, as well as observer delegates from non-contracting Parties. Under Article 21 of the Convention the Standing Committee is empowered to give Opinions on the interpretation of the provisions of the instrument. At its 7th meeting (21-22 November 1995), the Standing Committee adopted an Opinion on the application of the Convention's provisions on advertising to "infomercials".
