On 10 September 1996, the Court of Justice of the European Communities decided in two infringement procedures concerning failure by Belgium and the United Kingdom to fulfil their obligations under the 'Television without Frontiers' Directive.

In IRIS 1996-10 (November issue) we will publish an article by the European Commission on the merits of both cases.

Judgements of the Court of Justice of the European Communities of 10 September 1996 in Case C-11/95, Commission of the European Communities v. Kingdom of Belgium, and Case C-222/94, Commission of the European Communities supported by the French Republic v. United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.
